MONEY FOR THE ART MUSEUM | MERCHANT TAILORS TO DINE.

THE ISSUE OF $1,000,000 IN BONDS AU-THORIZED.

OF THE ADDITION PLANNED BY RICH-

ARD M. HUNT. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment yesterday authorized issuing bonds for $1,000,000 for an extension to the east side of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in Central Park. These bonds are to run thirty years, and to bear interest at not more than 31/2 per cent, not more than $200,000 to be issued in any one year. General Louis P. di Cesnola was seen at his home No. 109 East Fifty-seventh-st., last evenfrg, and in answer to questions on the subject said: "The bill authorizing the expenditure of $1,000,000 for the improvement of the Metropolltan Museum of Art was passed some time ago. But the action of the Board of Apportionment makes the first $200,000 available." The General added that when the bill was before the Legislature a committee from the Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Museum went to Albany and explained the object of enlargement of the present structure, and to their efforts the legislation was largely due. This committee consisted of Charles Stewart Smith, James A. Garland and Salem H. Wales. Immediately after the bill was passed, which authorized the expenditure of $1,000,000, provided that the building must be completed within five years, and that not more than $200,000 should be expended in any one year, plans were drawn in touch with public taste, there is no fear that by the late Richard M. Hunt. These plans pro- their efforts to entertain the guests and each other vide for a T-sl aped building with the top fronting in Fifth-ave. This will be 304 feet long, and the stem of the T, which will connect the new structure with the old, will be 104 feet long. The plans for this new part had been con- Merchant Tailors' National Exchange. The other sidered for three years by the Building Committee appointed by the Board of Trustees.

This committee consisted of Richard M. Hunt, Henry G. Marquand and General di Cesnola, The committee had more in view than the erection of the proposed building.

"The Metropolitan Museum of Art," said General di Cesnola, "has the use of about eighteen acres of land. The first building and the additions were put up near the centre of the plot, but now the outer edge was to be built upon and we wanted a structure which would be as nearly serfect as possible and classically beautiful. Mr. Hunt threw his whole heart into the scheme and his plans were nearly complete when he died. They needed only the finishing touches, which were put on by his son. When Mr. Hunt died," continued the General, "the trustees, who had done so much for the matter in Albany, were made members of the Building Committee, which made members of the Building Committee, which now consists of Messrs. Marquand, Smith, Garland, Wales and myself."

When asked about the general effect of the Flith-ave, façade, General di Cesnola said: "It is absolutely splendid. It is classical in all its character and will be an ornament to the city of New-York. We hope to be able to use marble and will do so if the appropriation is sufficient, but if marble is not used in the construction the façade will be built of stone of equally enduring qualities. The Fifth-ave, façade will be only the beginning of a grand piece of architecture which will inclose the eighteen-acre plet. That was Mr. Hunt's idea when he drew the plans. What will sail that cost? I never thought of that; future generations will have to grapple with that question. For the present we are satisfied to build the million-deilar addition."

When asked who would carry out the plans as made by Mr. Hunt, the General said: "When Mr. Hunt's plans were submitted by the Building Committee to the Board of Trustees, they were accepted and Mr. Hunt's son, Richard H. Hunt, was intrusted with the completion of the work which his father had begun, and with the prepaaccepted and Mr. Hunt's son, Richard H. Hunt, was intrusted with the completion of the work which his father had begun, and with the preparation of the construction plans."

General di Cesnola said that the scheme of inclosing the great plot with a structure of which the Fifth-ave, facade was only the beginning, would give New-York a museum larger and more beautiful than any in the world, and if there was anything defective in the early buildings, which occupied the inner space, it would be masked by the beautiful marginal structure. It is expected that work on the new building will be begun soon.

FOR NEW PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

BILLS APPROVED BY THE BOARD OF ESTI-MATE.

Board of Estimate yesterday approved bills authorizing a $200,000 appropriation baths and tollet-rooms; $1,000,000 for new buildings and for alterations and im provements in old ones of the Department of harities, and $500,000 for the erection and improvement to the buildings of the Correction Department. These bills will be presented to the Legislature for passage at its present session. County Clerk sent in a letter of protest against the crection of a building in the City Hall against the crection of a building in the City Hall Park, to be occupied by the County Clerk's office, the Register and other city departments. Mr. Purroy neld that it had always been the policy of the city to put no more buildings in the Park. Despite the protest, Corporation Counsel Scott's bill for the erection of such a building was approved by the Board, with the exception of Controller Fitch, who voted against it.

An appropriation of $17.700 was made to pay the expense of the Commission appointed to change the grade of streets on the North Side.

LOCAL BUSINESS COMPLICATIONS.

AN ASSIGNMENT BY THE STEEL FIRM OF SPAULDING, JENNINGS & CO.

comprising the firm of Spaulding, Jennings & Co., manufacturers of steel, in Grant-ave., Jersey City. in the establishment known as the West Bergen Steel Works, made an assignment in this city yestetrday to Charles T. Haviland, as the financial part of the business is transacted in this city and both partners live here. Mr. Spaulding is the capitalist of the firm, also of the Spaulding Machine Screw Company, of Buffalo, N. Y., and is a manufacturer of bicycle fittings at Buffalo. He made an individual assignment here yesterday of the bleycle fittings business to John R. Keim. He was reputed to be worth $500,000, and was formerly in the drygoods commission business as a partner in the firm of Coffin, Spaulding & Allen, which dissolved in 1880. It is said that the trouble is only temporary, as creditors will be paid in full, and that it is in the nature of an extension. Hobbs & Gifford, attorneys, said that the firm were unable to realize upon their assets to meet obligations failing due. They were loaded up with stock, and a fire at their factory on December 22, which destroyed part of their vorks, had greatly interfered with their trade. The assets are amply sufficient to pay every creditor in full. At a very conservative estimate the assets

Deputy-Sheriff Whortskey yeaterday received executions aggregating $1,256 against the Consolidated Wall Paper Company, whose office is at No. 503 Fifth-ave, and made a levy at the office. The company has factories at Mamaroneck, N. Y., and at Bedford-ave, and North Eleventh-st., Brooklyn, and the plant at Mamaroneck is said to be chattel mortgaged for $25,000. The plant and real estate are valued at $137,000. George Russell, who had been president of the company, resigned, it is said, two weeks ago, and has been succeeded by Walter B. Whiting.

SUMMING UP FOR MIGOWAN.

The taking of testimony in the case of Michael McGowar, charged with the murder of Rose Finn in July last, was finished before Justice Smyth in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court yesterbegan his summing up, but had not completed his address when court adjourned till Monday. Ira O. Tracy, first assistant in the Long Island Hospital for the Insane, gave expert testimony for the defence to show insanity, as did Dr. Graeme M. Hammond. In the course of his cross-examination of Dr. Hammond, Assistant District-Attorney Mo-Intyre asked:

tyre asked:
"Did you ever hear, doctor, that Napoleon, assar, Washington and Cowper were epileptics?"
"I have read so," was the reply.
"Did you ever hear that Napoleon never went to attle until after he got over his fit?"
Justice Smyth ruled out this question.

The tenth anniversary of the formation of the Library Club was celebrated last night with a dinner at Clark's restaurant, in West Twenty-third-st. About 129 guests were present including a number of members of the Massachusetts State Library Association. Half a dozen speeches were made, one of the most interesting being that of Professor, Franklin W. Hooper, director of the Brooklyn Institute, who spoke of the proposed library to be a part of the new building on the Prospect Park slope. The library, he hoped, and he had reason to believe, would be in keeping with the magnificent building. Other speakers were Rossiter Johnson, who talked of "The Relation of the Author to the Library," and H. E. Nourse, of the Massachusetts State Library Commission, who told something about the Commission. Among those present were Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart, Miss Emegene Hazelton, Miss H. O. James, W. R. AN ARTILLERY REGIMENT.

EDWIN N. DOLL WILL PRESIDE AT THE STEPS TAKEN'BY THE 12TH IN LINE WITH GENERAL M'ALPIN'S SUGGESTION.

> In his report to the Governor Adjutant-General It would therefore seem prudent for the State to organize at least one regiment of heavy artillery, with a view to assist the general Government in manning the defences of New-York Harbor. To do so requires, however, a dechled addition to the present annual appropriation made for the support of the National Guard.

It seems that the suggestion has met with favor in at least one regiment of the Pifteenth Brigade, and steps have already been taken to send a committee to Albany to urge the execution of General Mc Alpin's plan. The annual meeting of the Board of Alpin's plan. The annual meeting of the Board of Officers of the 12th Regiment took place at the Armory on Thorsday evening. After routine business had been transacted the Adjutant-General's report was discussed, and that part of it in particular in which the organization of a heavy artillery regiment is recommended. The sentiment in favor of the scheme was amost unanimous, and a committee of three was appointed to convey the sentiment of the officers of the Adjutant-General.

The officers of the 12th have long been in favor of reorganizing the command as an artillery regiment, but they have inverted a chance to express themselves on the subject.

A Tribune reporter asked several officers of the regiment for further particulars as to their action in the matter, but none would speak of it, and although no confirmation of the report could be received, there is no doubt that the committee has been appointed for the purpose stated.
